READ CORRESPONDENCE

FINANCIAL REPORT – There was no financial report.

SUPERINTENDENT’S REPORT

MAGAZINE ARTICLE – Nelson Thibeault sent Supt. Kudrick an article in Wastewater Digest regarding another Kruger system. The differences in the number of screens that that facility uses versus what the Hooksett Plant uses is quite noticeable. Supt. Kudrick wanted the Commissioners to review the article for their edification on other systems versus ours.

HISTORY OF FAILURES AT PLANT – Supt. Kudrick submitted a report to the Commissioners outlining each failure incident at the plant. It included at what setting the blowers were at, the gallonage going through the system, and the result of each incident. The Commissioners asked for him to also include if anyone was present at the time of the failure, especially if it was during a testing of the system attended by representatives of the state and Krueger.

FLOWS – Supt. Kudrick submitted his report of the flows for February. The flows are up a bit, but are still below 2008-2010 levels.

ROUTE 3 – The State is starting up next week on the construction of the new sewer line. Supt. Kudrick needs to speak to someone regarding what they are planning to do for Merchant’s sewer services as the plans are to cut them to install the new lines.

DMRs – Only had one violation, but it happened during one of the days of testing and Supt. Kudrick couldn’t control the chlorine.
